the first week-

Longer and longer lines swelled the student ranks at Fort Hays State to a record 2,367 students. As class slips grew scarce, editorial writing became a popular course in the closing hours of enrollment day. Another school year was unfolding in the pattern of time.

The confusion of moving in served to quicken the process of getting acquainted, as the students helped each other to re-organize their belongings.

After everything was in order, they relaxed at "Meet - the - Faculty" get-togethers.

Students had a chance to show off their parents to the faculty on Parents' day, Saturday, Sept. 29. It was also Band day, and the campus was host to 36 high school marching bands. The day's activities included an afternoon mixer for the bands and the Fort Hays State—Marysville, Mo., football game at night.

"Gad, I grew another foot," this freshman said as he took his physical examination.

To open the social season on campus, sorority and fraternity members of Fort Hays State danced to the music of the Phi Mu band. Theme of the All-Greek formal was "September Song." During the intermission program, the Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity was awarded the I.F.C. Traveling Scholarship Trophy for the 1956 spring semester.

Are they glad — or sad?

"Waltz me around again, Glenn."

"And then I dug out my Captain Midnight badge."

The Fujiwara Opera company presented Gilbert and Sullivan's, "The Mikado," as a part of the Artists and Lecturers series. Most of the cast could not speak English, which created a problem when they dined at Custer hall.

With a giant puff of smoke, fraternity rush week started. Smokers were held at all "frat" houses across campus. Hoards of men poured into living rooms to hear the advantages of Greek life, resulting in one of the largest groups ever pledged.

h o m e c o m i n g

It was 5 p.m. and the usually quiet bridge leading to Custer hall swarmed with yelling students. The traditional freshmen tug-of-war opened the annual Homecoming activities. Once again freshmen were dragged through the murky waters of Big Creek, and as a result reluctantly donned their beanies until Thanksgiving. Enveloped in a typical Kansas cloud of dust, students and faculty attended a bar-b-que which followed the tug-of-war.

One of the Homecoming preliminaries was the varsity which featured special numbers between dances.

The spirit behind it all.

Tons of napkins, ingenuity and work were combined for Fort Hays State's Homecoming parade. Riding in the procession was the 1929 football coach, U. S. Senator Andrew L. Schoepel. The day's activities honored Schoepel and his team of '29.

Leading the parade was the Fort Hays State Marching 100.

Eight queen hopefuls rode the Student council float.

Custer hall won first in the women's float division with "Orchids to Our Team".

"Skyrocketing to Victory" was Delta Sigma Phi's winning float in the men's division.

Second place in men's division went to Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Delta Zeta was awarded second in women's house decorations.

"My thumb is tho thore."

"This cotton-pickin' chicken wire."

house decorations

Organized houses assumed a new look during the gayest weekend of the year as decorations took on a "Beat Pittsburg" theme.

Copping first place in women's division was Wesley hall's "Transfusion."

"We're Sinking Their Ship" proved profitable for Sigma Tau Gamma as they won the trophy in men's house decorations.

It rained.

Highlighting the day Senator Schoeppel crowned ginia Harper Homecoming queen at the half-time the FHS-Pittsburg game. Ellen Winchell and Gay Fritsche reigned as attendants.

With the last whistle, weary students emerge from the various buildings, thankful that classes are over. Some have work to do. . . some practice athletics. . . .

others attempt a few hours of serious study at the library. . . .

reveille ball

The two princesses, Miss Marilyn Hobbie and Miss Jackie Brack were presented flowers by Miss Diedra Burandt, assistant editor.

Announced as the 1957 Reveille Queen, Miss Charlotte Bizek received her ovation from the audience.

The choice of a Reveille queen and princesses is traditionally made by a celebrity visiting Fort Hays State. This year bandleader Woody Herman, who played a previous engagement at the college, was the 1957 selector. Corresponding with the beginning of the winter season, painted driftwood and spruce decorated the ballroom area. Revealed for the first time was the 1957 Reveille cover spotlighted on the stage. Crowning ceremonies were emceed by Harold Stones who opened the letter naming the royalty. Editor Vaunita Rusco awarded trophies and Miss Burandt conferred roses to Queen Charlotte Bizek and Princesses Marilyn Hobbie and Jackie Brack. Miss Bizek was sponsored by the Pegis club, Miss Hobbie by Phi Sigma Epsilon and Miss Brack by Delta Sigma Phi.

The crown and the kiss were properly bestowed by the new dean of men, Richard Burnett.

The Royal Court

'Twas Christmas time and the Fort Hays State campus donned its holiday dress, topped by the star on Picken hall. Caroling voices were heard up and down the streets of Hays as several groups acquired the holiday spirit. The social calendar was filled with dances and parties before students journeyed off to a long awaited vacation.

The close of '56 also saw the end of leap year — time for girls to trap a man. Some caught their Romeo in a real Juliet fashion . . .

. . . . but others didn't. Still there remained one hope — just four more years 'til another leap year.

With "Your Hit Parade" as the musical theme of the choir show, numbers exhibited originality and zest in their portrayal of the nation's top tunes. The show was student directed by Bob Gleason, Fred Hoff and Don Moses. Proceeds from the annual event go to the scholarship fund.

Tillie Selensky and Ray Eaton were crowned as the honored 1957 queen and king of the Sweetheart ball. Sponsoring organizations were Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity and Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority. Decorated with gay cupids and colorful hearts, the February affair featured Dave Emery and his Starlighters dance band. Master of ceremonies Galen McClain introduced the candidates and announced the winners chosen by popular student vote. Performing the coronation duties was Ronald Miller, last year's king.

One of the most well named events of the year — rush week — took place at the first of the spring semester. To acquaint and convince 90 rushees, chiefly freshmen, of the advantages of pledging a sorority was the primary goal. Fort Hays State's four national sororities, Alpha Sigma Alpha, Delta Zeta, Sigma Sigma Sigma, Theta Sigma Upsilon and one colony, Alpha Mu club of Pi Kappa Sigma, began the social round with teas Sunday afternoon. Frantic but fun for both rushees and sorority members, rush week had started.

Entertainment at the parties was furnished by sorority actives, including Elvis Presley without the wiggle.

Group singing was always more fun in "dig me daddy" outfits.

After the party—dishes and dishpan hands.

Rushees enjoy a musical game, "Crraaazylegs."

Starting on Monday and running until Saturday, the second phase of rush week consisted of first and second parties given by the sororities. The gatherings proved to be chuck full of laughs and information. Rushees found out more about each of the sororities, the girls in them and the advantages of being a Greek. Exhausted, everyone concerned was almost glad for the quiet hours Saturday, when only a friendly "hi" was permitted between rushees and sorority members.

Then came Sunday—the week of smiles on top of smiles and fervent hellos and goodbyes was ended. The strain of “will I make a good impression” had broken, leaving only the tension of “which sorority should I pledge?” Zero hour came at 2:30 p.m. as 52 new pledges rushed to the Greek houses of their choice. Actives greeted them with fellowship and happy chatter—it was all over.

The girl called . . . and the boy answered.

The Daisy Mae and Bearded Joe of Leap week—Donna Knowles, sponsored by Sigma Sigma Sigma, and Roger Greene, sponsored by Sigma Tau Gamma—receive plaques from StuCo president Chuck Evans.

The tables were turned on the Fort Hays State campus during the week of Feb. 18, when Leap week officially started. The wandering eyes of coeds kept males on the run—now it was legal to ask boys for dates! However, gals had to abide by rules, such as carrying books and not molesting men. Throughout the week, students voted at a penny a vote for their favorite Daisy Mae and Bearded Joe. The winners, Donna Knowles and Roger Greene, were announced at the dance climaxing Leap week. Proceeds from the dance and voting went towards sponsoring a foreign student next year at Fort Hays State.

The Artist's ball, attended by art majors and art faculty, featured costumes of every type and size. The annual affair gave the creative mind of the artist a chance to express his ingenuity in costuming instead of on canvas.

Entertainment center of Western Kansas—this is Sheridan coliseum. Under its roof can be found many activities ranging from basketball games to concerts. The Kansas City Philharmonic was but one of the musical programs presented in the arena. The scene of several physical education classes, such as golf and square dancing, the coliseum was also a popular spot for college dances.

all-school carnival

The Fakir says, "Go back to the jungle and lead a clean life."

With booths ranging from jailed rats on a wheel of chance to a jail for public offenders, the All-School Carnival was held March 22. The two-fold purpose was making money for the organization in charge of each booth and providing fun for the participants. A crowd in the Carnival mood toured booths while munching cake and candy won from the stands. Sponsored by the Alpha Sigma Alpha and Delta Zeta sororities and Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity, the Carnival had booths representing 16 organizations.

But one goal—the ideal education of the individual. Underneath all the confusion of college is the real objective, academic achievement. Involving many facets, it is light silhouetting a pensive face and coming into a world of concentration. It is nerves and song. . .late labs and a cold telescope. . .dogfish and formaldehyde. . .exhausting and happy. It is silent but for a brush trailing on canvas. Complex and vital, education is a montage of spirited activity.

Sciences, biological and physical; technical skills, industrial arts and physical education; the arts, music and art; professional training, journalism, pre-medical, pre-law and clinical psychology—all are part of the curriculum at Fort Hays State. Psychology students help with testing in the psychology clinic, and have the opportunity to observe play therapy and case diagnosis administered by the staff.

Learning—the "why" of college. We remember the time our roommate tied our shoe laces together when we were late for a date, or the time the doors on Picken hall were being changed and we had to wait single file to get in or out. But just to remember that Anne Boleyn was the second wife of Henry VIII when you are writing out an exam!

Classes are the focal point of college, pointing the way to future self-education. A liberal arts education gives the student the background for future study and learning on his own.

In classes, too, the student can be creative, can express some part of himself so that others may appreciate and admire his work.

Concentration is learned through testing, reading and studying amidst the shouting of five roommates. Special skills are learned, too, as in radio techniques. Students learn to engineer, write, direct, record and produce radio programs.

Not only radio, but also other subjects teach special skills. This combination of specific techniques with a background of liberal education helps to make the student aware of and contributing to society in the world today.

spring. . .

A leaf unfolded and a love blossomed. Couples strolled down the walks as the sun grew steadily warmer. The old adage "comes spring, and a young man's fancy turns. . ." was certainly true. Dialogue was enhanced by coy glances and wide smiles. Entwined with the conversation was the great American pastime—romance.

Membership on the Student Affairs committee was decided by vote of the Student council. This standing committee was created for the purpose of controlling traffic problems and serving as a board of appeals for traffic violators. Scheduling student money-making projects and advising discipline cases referred to them by the Dean of Men or Women are included in their duties.

social committee

Scheduling of all school social events was the responsibility of the Social committee. Advertising, decorating, and ticket-taking at such occasions as the Sweetheart ball and May fete, serving as governing body for the future Student Union building, and compiling the Social Calendar were some of their projects. Membership on the committee is determined by appointment by the Student council.

The Student council is composed of the fifteen class and student body officers. Meeting weekly, the group discussed problems concerning the school and student organizations. They arranged for student elections, organized Corral day, acted as host for the biennial CIC Associated Student Council meeting in the spring, and completed a thorough revision of the Fort Hays State constitution. The red velvet robe used in the Homecoming coronation was purchased by Council funds.

The student body officers were J. Butcher, vice president; C. Evans, president; and D. Atkeson, secretary-treasurer.

The student council officers were D. Eulert, vice president; I. Hobbie, secretary-treasurer; and C. Evans, president.

phi mu alpha

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia is an organization of students of music, formed for the purpose of advancement of the cause of musical culture. Membership is elective. They sponsored a music scholarship with the proceeds from several school dances at which their orchestra played. They also ushered at all music programs on campus and gave two group recitals.

Pledges are: N. Ochs, J. Mohr, B. Brock, B. Hargraves, G. Turner, J. Stafford, B. Stutterheim, J. Harmon, R. Cody, J. Boedeker.

Looking over the music department record collection are officers W. Howe, secretary; D. Atkeson, warden; D. Petty, pledge-master; V. Rohan, alumni secretary; B. Barstow, vice-president; B. Gleason, president; and J. Strobel, treasurer.

Tigerette officers were G. Fritsche, E. Asher, V. Rusco and P. Watkins.

Promoting enthusiasm, co-operation, and good sportsmanship on the campus is the objective of the Tigerettes, the women's pep organization. In group attendance at all rallies, parades, and games, they led the student body in support of the team. Membership is elective, chosen from upperclasswomen who have previously participated in a pep organization.

Kappa Mu Epsilon is a national honorary mathematics fraternity dedicated to the furthering of higher mathematics. The group is open to math majors or minors who have completed analytical geometry with an index of two point in all math courses. They met to discuss problems in mathematics and to criticize papers written by the members.

The leaders for Phi Kappa Phi were E. Martin, secretary; J. Garwood, vice president; N. Landrum, treasurer; G. Herndon, president; and A. Beesley, journal correspondent.

phi kappa phi

The recognition of scholarship among the students of American colleges and universities is the purpose of the honor society of Phi Kappa Phi. Election of an individual implies scholarship in the broadest sense—not grade point average alone. The local chapter presents a challenging speaker each year—this year, Colin Jackson, world traveler, discussed the Mid-East. In addition, the chapter presents a Phi Kappa Phi scholarship to an outstanding senior.

The Reveille staff was composed of those individuals who were either actually interested in journalism, seniors with no previous activity credit, or sorority sisters of the editor. Their objectives were the promotion of artistic arrangement as a cover-up for poor material, and replacing the activities of inactive organizations with creative phrasing of their beginning-of-the-year schedules. Activities of the year included the eating of an angel food cake, publication of an annual, cutting out paper dolls and a final community work-day to pay the staff's salaries.

Students interested in creative writing, either in fiction, poetry, or journalism, composed the membership of Scriblerus. The group met once each month to criticize each member's work and to discuss problems involved in publication. The club sponsored the SHEAF, a magazine devoted to the best examples of Fort Hays State student writing.

The November election aroused an active political interest in students anticipating a career in politics; and in those wanting to learn more about campaign issues, platform construction, and voting procedure. During the pre-election period, the collegiates conducted polls, helped with campaigns and undertook other tasks to aid the senior parties. Caravans of speakers from both parties were brought to the campus. A spirit of good-natured rivalry prevailed as students from the two organizations engaged in political debates and informal arguments over conflicting issues. Activities relaxed following the election, but resumed a hurried tempo with the state conventions in the spring.

The Fort Hays State band was a composite term used to denote several organizations. Under the direction of Harold Palmer, the group was a marching band for parades and football games, a concert band for assemblies and concerts and a traveling band for tours throughout the area. Basketball season saw the division of the group into two pep bands conducted by Bob Gleason and Polly Palmer.

madrigal singers

The Madrigal Singers formed the latest addition to the choral organizations at Fort Hays State. The group was directed by Lloyd Herren and often performed with Fort Hays Singers. They also appeared on station KCKT-TV and at entertainment programs on campus. The members were D. Atkeson, F. Christian, R. Cody, D. Moses, J. Koeppen, L. Herren, director; M. Behnke, P. Newton, C. Leichliter, S. Unruh, B. Base and M. McCartney.

drum majorettes

Polly Palmer wound up her fourth year as drum major for the Marching 100.

Majorettes for the marching band were L. Amos, C. Eaton, D. Stout, D. Dyatt and B. Morris.

The college Concert Choir began the year's musical offering with the choir show presented in October. Under the direction of Lloyd Herren, the choral group went on a fall and spring tour, performed at the Christmas Vespers program and at Baccalaureate services.

"The Second Man" was given first semester as a Little Theatre project play. The cast of this sophisticated comedy featured Hal Colony as Storey, a writer with few, if any, inhibitions; Lorna Shaw as the rich and attractive widow, Kendall Frame; Mary Brown as Monica, a foolish young girl unable to choose between momentary excitement or permanent security; and Phil Weber as the love-blinded scientist, Austin.

"The Silver Cord," Sidney Howard's moving study of frustration and hysteria was presented first semester by the Picken Players. The play portrays the story of Mrs. Phelps, an over-possessive woman whose love for her two grown sons has become her only reason for living, and who tries to break up the marriage of one and the engagement of the other of her sons to keep them under her control. The cast included Shirley Stubbs as Mrs. Phelps, Janie Tribble as Hester, Marilyn Ginther as Christina, Charles Evans as David, and Ray Newton as Robin.

"The Doll's House," by Henrik Ibsen, starred Phil Webber as Torvald Hellmer, and Mary Eleanor Brown as his wife Nora. The play is the story of a husband with commonplace principles who treats his wife as a doll and, therefore, eventually loses her.

The cast included Marilyn McCartney as Mrs. Linde, Bob Scheuerman as Nils Krogstad, Nancy Miller as their nurse Anne, Vickie Richards as a housemaid and Kenneth Tidball as a porter.

Miss Harriet Ketchum is director of the Fort Hays State Little Theater.

Contemplating the right expression to use on the line, "Does it not occur to you that this is the first time we two, husband and wife, have had a serious conversation?" are cast members N. Miller, K. Tidball, C. Wells, P. Weber, M. McCartney, B. Scheuerman and V. Richards.

Composed of three representatives from each sorority on campus, Panhellenic council is the co-ordinating group of sororities. Organized for the purpose of bringing these groups closer together, Panhellenic builds a better working relationship among both the presidents and the groups. Among the many activities of Panhellenic council are composing a list of rush rules; planning for the procedures of rush week; and awarding the Scholarship shield to the sorority ranking highest, percentagewise, in scholarship. Several parties to orientate freshmen women about sorority life were held in the fall, among them the Sorority Flavors party, the Susy-Q party and the Powder Puff party.

Officers of Panhellenic council were Marilyn Hobbie, secretary; Leila Walz, treasurer; Annette Karlin, president; Janis Mountain, corresponding secretary; and Jane Tribble, parliamentarian.

The Inter-fraternity council, composed of two representatives from each of the six social fraternities, is the co-ordinating body for the Fort Hays State fraternity system. Early in the fall the council, in cooperation with the Panhellenic council, sponsored the All-Greek formal.

IFC awards a trophy to the men's division winner at the All-Greek sing in the spring. A traveling trophy is given each semester to the fraternity whose actives have the highest grade point, and also to the pledge class with the highest grade point. Richard Burnett, dean of men, served as the Inter-fraternity advisor.

Officers of Inter-fraternity council were Gary Pauley, secretary; Glenn Martin, president; Glenn Thomas, vice president; and Merlin Ely, treasurer.

This year saw the appearance of a new sorority on campus as Delta Sigma Epsilon merged into a new chapter of Delta Zeta. Along with winning second place on their house decorations during homecoming, the Del-tas found time to take part in many other campus activities. Marilyn North and Bonnie Wasinger were elected to Who's Who and Phi Kappa Phi. Marilyn North was a member of W.L.O. and Dixie Brown worked on the Re-veille. Keeping an active interest in sports was cheerleader Virgie Binder.

The Christmas buffet dinner, Tinsel Twirl, a spring picnic and a formal dance helped to round out the 56-57 session for Delta Zeta.

Under the roof of the Tri Sigma house lived many active members of campus organizations. Serving on student council and holding class offices were Carol Heinze, Marilyn Hobbie and Ila Hobbie. Etta Rusco was editor of the 1957 Reveille, while Rhetis Simons, Etta Rusco and Marilyn Hobbie were elected to Who's Who. Membership in W.L.O. included five Tri Sigmas. Selected to the honor society of Phi Kappa Phi were Marilyn Hobbie and Etta Rusco. High priestess of howl, Tillie Selensky, helped cheer the team on to victory. The president of Pre-Med club and Nursing club along with two of the debate squad were Tri Sigmas.

When it came to royalty the Tri Sigmas weren't left out with Ellen Winchell, homecoming queen attendant; Marilyn Hobbie, Reveille queen princess; Tillie Selensky, Sweetheart queen; and Donna Knowles, Daisy Mae. Two informals and a formal finished out a busy year for the Sigmas.

On November 17, 1956, five girls formed a new sorority. Until they become nationally affiliated with Pi Kappa Sigma, they will be known as the Alpha Mu club. During open bidding, three more girls joined the group. Coke dates and parties during rush week brought five freshman girls into the midst of the Alpha Mu's.

"Red Sails in the Sunset" was the theme of the informal given by the pledges for the actives. Other social functions climaxed a progressive year for the Alpha Mu's.

Colonized at Fort Hays State in the spring semester of 1956, Pegis club is now on the doorstep of being recognized as Sigma Phi Epsilon. In the beginning, there were 20 men who agreed to attempt to establish an active chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon on campus. With the help and consent of the school administration and IFC, the Pegis club has achieved a year of progress at Fort Hays State.

Pegis club parties consisted of informals, rush parties and the Golden Heart formal. Pegis athletes included Myron Dietz and Marvin Stoss of the football team and trackmen Rudy Deines and Jay Underwood. Several others competed on the swimming and gymnastic teams. Political discussions flourished when Lary Brookhart and Bill Bigham headed the Collegiate Republicans and Democrats respectively. The Pegis club captured firsts in table tennis singles and swimming team intramurals.

The Delta Sigma Phi's annual Sailor's ball in the fall started off the semester with a bang. Taking first place on their float during homecoming was the next event for them and the Carnation ball in the spring finished their social year. In athletics we find Wayne Lasater, Les Herrman and Bob Samples in football and Julian McEwen on the gymnastics team. The Delta Sigs took first in organized league intramural basketball.

The sophomore class had two Delta Sigs for their officers with Jerry Anderson as president and Wayne Lasater as vice president. In the journalism department we find Keith Beckwith as shutterbug for the Fort Hays State Leader and Dick Wolf on the Reveille staff. Dennis Simmonds was elected to Who's Who.

Officers for the second semester were Jerry Anderson, president; Merlin Ely, vice president; James Alderman, secretary; Glen Hall, treasurer; and Les Herrman, sergeant-of-arms.

The Phi Sig roll call included many of the names that headlined the sports pages this year. The football team was boosted by the playing of Stan Moore, Dean Russell and Bob Hyde. On the varsity basketball squad were Joe Butcher, Gary Panter, Gene Dawson, Marlin Rein and Jim Maska. They also had representatives on the track, swimming and wrestling teams.

In Who's Who and Phi Kappa Phi we find Dean Russell and Don Eulert. Class officers and student council members were Joe Butcher, Don Eulert, Bill Browning and Art Thomas. Ken Kibbe was president of Men's residence; Don Shaw, president of K-Club; and Don Eulert, FTA president.

Founder's Day banquet, informals, picnics and the Spring Sweetheart formal finished up the term for the Phi Sigs.

Starting the season off in proud form, the Sig Taus placed first in house decorations during homecoming and won the scholarship trophy for actives during the fall semester. They also triumphed during Leap week when Roger Greene was voted Bearded Joe. This is the third consecutive win and enabled them to keep the trophy permanently. Ray Newton was elected to Who's Who, Seventh Cavalry and Lambda Iota Tau, honorary literature fraternity.

In intramurals the Sig Taus had several members on the all-star basketball and touch football teams. Jim Weber was president of German club, and Eta chapter members Jeral Cooper and Claude Barrett were on the Reveille staff. Fall semester officers were Ray Newton, president; John Coen, vice president; Bob Seibel, secretary; Charles Mueldener, house manager; and Leonard Ballard, treasurer.

"A TKE in everything and every TKE in something." This seemed to be the theme for the fraternity this year in activities. Curt Fowler was president of Seventh Cavalry with Don Burnett, Loren Janzen and Greig Lindner as members. Glenn Martin was president of IFC, Al McCune was president of the freshman class and Dale Atkeson was treasurer of the student body. Don Burnett was chosen to Who's Who.

The TKE's were awarded second place on their homecoming house decorations. Social activities for the year included a pajama party, a bermuda shorts informal and the Red Carnation ball.

TKE wheels were Martin, Henderson, Wanker and Smith.

Paul "Busch" Gross starred in both basketball and football at Fort Hays and played on the championship teams of 1920-21. Now, in his 27th year in athletics, Mr. Gross is an active supervisor of Fort Hays State sports. Receiving his bachelor's degree in 1922, he began his coaching career at LaCrosse High school. Mr. Gross then moved to Augusta, where his championship teams were known throughout the state. In 1930 he returned to Fort Hays as head basketball coach. In 1935 he was appointed Assistant Athletic Director and in 1946 he assumed his present duties of Director of Athletics.

Head football coach Wayne J. McConnell came to Fort Hays after six years as Athletic Director at College of Emporia. Mr. McConnell, a graduate of Washburn and Emporia State, began his coaching career at Atchison County High school in 1943. He was head coach at both Gaylord and Downs, where he was undefeated in two seasons, winning 16 games. In the 1949-50 seasons he piloted the Manhattan High school team to a position in the top ten in Class AA and placed second in the C.K.L. As head coach of College of Emporia he mentored a team that was undefeated in 26 contests and he was named Little All-American Coach of the year. In his first year at Fort Hays Mr. McConnell faced the task of rebuilding a team weakened by graduation and by pre-season injuries. Next year he will have 20 lettermen returning to form a nucleus for next season's team.

FHS 6 — CENTRAL OKLAHOMA 35

In the opening game of the 1956 season the Tigers were humbled 35 to 6 by a powerful Central Oklahoma State team. The Broncos scored in every quarter while grinding out a tremendous 465 yards rushing. After spotting the Broncos a 7-point lead, the Tigers clawed back to close the gap to a score of 7-6. Sparked by the running of Pete Werth and Ford Farber, Fort Hays drove to the 12-yard-line where Werth packed the ball across for the touchdown. However, the Tigers' moment of glory was short lived, as they were smothered by the onrushing Broncos, who scored twice to gain a 21 to 6 halftime advantage. With the game safely tucked away the Broncos seemed content to add one touchdown in each of the remaining quarters.

FHS 6 — KEARNEY STATE 18

After dropping their initial game to Central Oklahoma, the Tigers met the Kearney State Teachers at Kearney, Nebr., and bowed to the Antelopes by an 18 to 6 margin. Kearney scored first late in the second quarter when sophomore halfback Jim Peterson booted a 20-yard field goal to give the Antelopes a 3-0 halftime lead. In the third quarter the Tigers bounced back with Otho Sweazy plunging over from the 2-yard line to give the Bengals a 6 to 3 edge. After battling the Antelopes to a standstill for three quarters, the Tiger defenses crumbled as the Antelopes unleashed a sparkling air attack to net two touchdowns in the last quarter. Kearney added two more points on a safety to defeat Fort Hays for the first time since 1931.

FHS 19 — NORTHWEST MISSOURI 13

Fort Hays burst into the victory column by edging Northwest Missouri State of Marysville, Mo., 19 to 13 in a bitterly fought contest at Lewis Field. A 63-yard punt return by Toby Johnson put the Tigers in front 6 to 0 in the second quarter, but the Bearcats had snared a 7-6 halftime lead. In the third quarter Darrell Hildebrand pushed over from the one yard line to regain the lead for the Tigers. Early in the fourth quarter the Bearcats had scrambled back into a 13-13 tie on Cole's 14-yard scamper. The Tigers bulled their way for 61 yards and scored the decisive touchdown when Mac Thompson plunged across from the four-yard line.

FHS 0 — SOUTHWESTERN 7

The Tigers met Southwestern in the conference opener and bowed to the powerful Moundbuilders 7 to 0 in a defensive contest. Southwestern took the opening kickoff and marched downfield in a series of power plays. A quarterback sneak from the one-yard line and the added conversion put the Moundbuilders ahead to stay. After this early burst of power by Southwestern the game settled into a defensive struggle. The Tigers could not get their offense rolling but were tough defensively, halting several Moundbuilder scoring threats.

FHS 6 — PITTSBURG STATE 27

October 13 proved unlucky to Fort Hays as the Pittsburg State Gorillas ruined the Tigers' Homecoming by tripping the Cats 27 to 6 in a rain splattered contest at Lewis Field. The Gorillas ripped past the Tigers for three touchdowns in the first quarter, two of them set up by Bengal fumbles, to build up a 20 to 0 lead. In the second quarter the Tiger defenses stiffened to hold the Gorillas while Toby Johnson completed five consecutive passes from a spread formation and hit Darrell Hildebrand for the lone Tiger counter. Early in the third quarter the Gorillas stormed upfield to net the final goal as the slippery ball and wet field stalled the offenses of both teams.

FHS 13 — EMPORIA STATE 14

The clock ran out with Fort Hays threatening on the one-yard line, to hand the Emporia State Hornets a 14 to 13 win over the Tigers at Emporia. The Tigers had driven 70 yards on Toby Johnson's passing in the waning seconds of the game, but found themselves a yard short of victory as the gun sounded. The Tigers scored first in the second quarter on a quarterback sneak by Johnson, who also added the extra point. The Hornets struck back minutes later to knot the score 7-all at halftime. In the fourth quarter, Johnson scampered up the middle for 19 yards to boost the Tigers back in front, 13 to 7. With less than five minutes to go the Hornets scored to move ahead for good, 14 to 13.

FHS 0 — ST. BENEDICT'S 46

The Fort Hays Tigers ran into a homecoming-inspired flock of St. Benedict's Ravens and went down to their worst defeat of the season as the Ravens, enroute to the conference championship, rolled to a mammoth 46 to 0 victory. The undermanned Tiger squad held the powerful Ravens scoreless through the first quarter before surrendering to a 20 to 0 half-time margin. In the second half the Bengals were swarmed under as St. Benedict's added four touchdowns to insure their victory.

FHS 19 — WASHBURN 32

In the final home game of the season the Tigers were thumped 32-19 by the Washburn Ichabods. Statistically the Tigers outclassed the Ichabods before the victory was snatched from their fingertips. The Tigers had led at the quarter 13 to 7 on a pass from Warren Alpers to Darrell Hildebrand and a quarterback sneak by Toby Johnson, but found themselves trailing 19 to 13 at halftime. In the third quarter Johnson scored again to knot the game at 19-all. The Tigers were goalward bound again in the fourth quarter when Kendall Simpson twice snagged Tiger passes and scampered 85 and 90 yards to score, ending the Tiger threats and putting the Ichabods out of reach.

FHS 6 — PANHANDLE A & M 22

The Fort Hays Tigers closed out their 1956 season against Panhandle A & M at Goodwell, Okla. The Oklahomans' single wing attack stopped the Tigers 22 to 6, scoring two touchdowns and a field goal in the last quarter. Down one touchdown at halftime, the Tigers scored in the third quarter when Toby Johnson rammed over from the four-yard line.

Teams of Cade Suran, head coach of the Tigers since 1946, have won 162 of the 257 games played during that time. Suran's high scoring forward, Gary Panter, led the C.I.C. individual scoring with a 16.7 points per game average and was named to the all-conference team. Center Joe Butcher and forward Art Schippers were given honorable mention.

The Fort Hays Tigers finished the 1956-57 basketball season with a record of 11 victories against nine losses. Cade Suran's Bengals placed fifth in the C.I.C. conference with a 4-6 record. The Tigers blasted the season open with a 109 to 92 trouncing of Southwestern Oklahoma. The Suranmen then faltered 65 to 64 before Central Oklahoma. The Hays cagers won the next three contests, including a 95 to 93 victory over a powerful Lincoln university squad, and carried a 4 to 1 record into the Sunshine Tournament at Portales, New Mexico. Hays upset the favored Mississippi Southern team 82 to 67, then fell 82 to 76 and 64 to 70 to Eastern New Mexico and the Missouri School of Mines. Entering C.I.C. competition with a 5 to 3 standing, Fort Hays dropped a 94 to 69 decision to the Emporia Hornets who went on to take first place honors in the C.I.C. In mid-season, coach Suran took his team on a successful roadtrip, defeating Southwestern 82 to 60 and upsetting St. Benedict's 63 to 60. In a return match later in the season the Ravens snapped a four game winning streak of the Tigers, the longest of the campaign. The Fort Hays crew then went into a slump, dropping the next five games, all of them in C.I.C. competition. The Tigers closed out the season with a sparkling display of teamwork in the 100 to 88 mauling of Washburn university.

For the first time in recent years Fort Hays State added wrestling to the list of collegiate competition. The Tigers scheduled seven matches and the A. A. U. tournament for their first season. Coach Fred Reith, a graduate of Colorado State with a B.A. and M.A., came to Fort Hays in 1955 and assumed coaching duties for the new sport this year. In addition to his wrestling duties, Reith served as co-ordinator of physical education classes.

Rex Mayer's defeat of Jim App, McCook junior college, helped the Tigers swamp the Nebraskans 30-5 in Sheridan coliseum.

Composed of representatives of every organized house on campus, Intramural council served as a governing body over the intramural program. Top Row: Ruth Sevy, sponsor; Justine Beatty, Georgetta Hester, Margaret Gales, Velda Moyer, Karen Brandau, Ruth Rice. Bottom Row: Jane Deiter, Gretchen Mueldeener, Sue Kinyon, Harriet Henry, Janice Meier, Karen Hollinger.

women's intramurals

Intramurals for women offered a well-rounded athletic program for all women students. Medals and trophies are presented to the winners of each of the ten individual and team sports. The objective of the women's intramurals is to provide a source of recreation and to promote a wider interest in athletics.

through the doors

Social building

Many feet have traced the path through the doors of the old Social building. As the college expanded each new building was the scene of changing classrooms with changing faces. And yet the college preserved its character and traditions.

Soon, new footsteps will echo through the doors of the new Memorial Student Union building. But the character of Fort Hays State will not be changed — merely mellowed.

Student Union

President Cunningham in his office.

the president

The role of an administrator is an active one. As president of Fort Hays State, Dr. M. C. Cunningham shoulders the load for all problems of the college — large and small.

President Cunningham is in constant demand as a public speaker and consultant in educational affairs.

Always available to students, President Cunningham works continuously to make Fort Hays the best university of the plains.

administration

Extension: Ethel Artman, assistant director of extension and employment service; Nita Landrum, supervisor of correspondence and executive secretary of Alumni association; and Hugh Burnett, associate professor of political science and director of extension service, inspect a new issue of The Alumni News.

Dollie Thomas, assistant professor of business administration and assistant to the president.

Florence Bodmer, secretary to the dean.

Elizabeth Mosier, secretary, registrar's office and Mabel Hopkins, assistant to the registrar.

applied arts

Industrial arts: Meeting outside for a gab fest are Ed Davis, professor of industrial arts; Ralph Huffman, assistant professor of industrial arts; Richard Cain, assistant professor of industrial arts; Paul Griffith, instructor in industrial arts; and Dennis McKee, assistant professor of industrial arts.

Functional in its design, this modernistic building is the newest on campus. Its layout lends itself to the departments of art, industrial arts and home economics.

Home Economics: Grading in the home ec department can be enjoyable—agree Alice Beesley, professor of home economics and head of department; Thelma Leonard, instructor in home economics; and Ida Ladiges, instructor in home economics.

Art: Eleanor Caldwell, instructor in art; Martha Dellinger, instructor in art; Dr. Joel Moss, professor of art and head of department; and John Thorns, instructor in art, discuss a basic principle of art.

Political Science and Sociology: Heading for their daily coffee are Dr. Ivan Richardson, professor of political science and sociology; Maria Perkins, assistant professor of sociology; Dr. William Moreland, professor of political science and sociology and head of department; and Robert Witt, assistant professor of political science and sociology.

Named after the first president of Fort Hays State, ivy-covered Picken hall was also the first building erected on the present campus. Now 54 years old, it houses administration offices and the departments of political science and sociology, English, business and economics, speech and language.

English: Round table discussing are Dr. Ralph Coder, chairman of division of languages, literature, and speech; Naomi Garner, assistant professor of English; Katharine Bogart, assistant professor of English; Mabel Lacey, assistant professor of English; and Marion Coulson, assistant professor of English.

Other members of the English department are Alice Morrison, assistant professor of English; Dr. Samuel Sackett, assistant professor of English; Dr. Roberta Stout, associate professor of English; and Dr. Verna Parish, associate professor of English.

Speech: Practicing what they preach are Harriet Ketchum, assistant professor of speech; Albert Dunavan, instructor in speech and English; James Start, professor of speech and head of department; Geneva Herndon, professor of speech; and Jack Heather, instructor in speech.

Extension: Planning extension activities are Hugh Burnett, associate professor of political science, director of extension service; Nita Landrum, supervisor of correspondence study and executive secretary of Alumni association; and Ethel Artman, assistant director of extension, employment service.

Language: Learning more about each other's respective languages are Dr. Paul Graber, assistant professor of language; Ruth Willard, instructor in language and English; and Andrew Rematore, assistant professor of language.

Business: Laughing over a tall tale are Kenneth Cook, assistant professor of business administration; Mary Joyce Goodman, instructor in business administration; Glen Neumeyer, instructor in business administration; Dr. Leonard Thompson, professor of economics and business administration and head of department; and Richard Osborne, instructor in business administration.

Business: Shining up the equipment are Dr. Archie Thomas, professor of business administration; Ruth Mikich, instructor in business administration; William Keller, instructor in business administration; and Dr. John Garwood, professor of economics and business administration.

Strange odors of formaldehyde and sulfuric acid always identify the Science building from other structures on campus. Topped by the observatory, it is the stomping grounds of students majoring in chemistry, physics, mathematics, agriculture, botany, zoology and biology.

Agriculture: James Wells, assistant professor of agriculture; Andrew Riegel, assistant professor of botany; and Thaine Clark, instructor in agriculture, are examining samples of new wheat varieties.

Mathematics: Consultation among Dr. Emmet Stopher, professor of mathematics and head of department; Laurence Dryden, instructor in mathematics; Everett Marshall, assistant professor of mathematics; Wilmont Tolson, associate professor of mathematics; and Eugene Etter, assistant professor of mathematics, prove that $xy=z$.

Physics: Operating this short wave radio are Dr. Harvey Zinszer, professor emeritus of physics and astronomy; and Doyle Brooks, assistant professor of physics.

Zoology: Dr. Ed Martin, associate professor of zoology; Theodore Whitmoyer, instructor in biology; Dr. Leon Hepner, assistant professor of zoology; and Elton Schroeder, instructor in biology, are examining student-made slides.

Nursing: Discussing the problems of future nurses are Ella Libal, instructor in nurse education; Leora Stroup, professor of nurse education and head of department; and Katherine Dibble, instructor in nurse education.

Chemistry: Testing a chemical formula are Dr. Harold Choguill, professor of chemistry and head of department; Dr. Doris Stage, associate professor of chemistry; and Coleen Roth, instructor in chemistry.

Botany: Kenneth Simons, assistant professor of botany; Henry McFarland, assistant professor of biology; Dr. Gerald Tomanek, professor of botany and acting chairman of biological sciences; and Dr. Harold Hopkins, associate professor of botany, are studying the various types of soil.

Library: Marc Campbell, reference librarian; Geri Morris, cataloger librarian; and Pauline Lindner, supervisor of library circulation, are looking at one of the many new books.

Checking through reference materials are Margaret van Ackeren, documents librarian, and Paul Friesner, professor of library science.

Dances and dates came and went, but the steady, pulsating beat of Forsyth library kept an even keel. In addition to being the center of study on campus, the library affords space for the museum, philosophy and history departments.

forsyth library

History: Examining historical pottery are: Richard Marcus, instructor in history; Dr. Raymond Welty, professor of history and head of department; Dr. Eugene Craine, associate professor of history; Dr. Katherine Nutt, associate professor of history; and Dr. Theodore Shane, assistant professor of history.

Philosophy: Contemplating his subject is Dr. Sam Hamilton, professor of philosophy.

Geology: Pointing out the features of this fossil skull of a water reptile is Myrl Walker, instructor in geology, to Dr. L. D. Wooster, president emeritus; and George Sternberg, curator of the museum.

sheridan coliseum

Cheers, music, and lectures—all of these sounds can be heard echoing from Sheridan coliseum. Basketball games, assemblies, dances and other activities make the coliseum one of the most frequently populated buildings on campus. Situated there are the departments of music, journalism, physical education, the student health office and administrative offices.

Journalism: Keeping up on the news are Valle Loomis, instructor in journalism, and Don Benson, instructor in journalism.

Physical Education: Admiring one of the new trophies are Elizabeth Barbour, assistant professor of physical education; Joan Hedrick, instructor in physical education; and Ruth Sevy, assistant professor of physical education.

Physical Education: Cade Suran, assistant professor of physical education and basketball coach, and Wayne McConnell, assistant professor of physical education and football coach, discuss the past football season.

Physical Education: Enjoying a discussion about athletic activities are Fred Reith, instructor in physical education; Dr. Donald Adee, professor of physical education; Paul Gross, associate professor of education and director of athletics; and Alex Francis, associate professor of physical education.

Music: Events of a forth-coming music festival are discussed by Dr. Lloyd Herren, professor of music and head of the department; Harold Palmer, assistant professor of music; Lucille Felten, associate professor of music; Donald Stout, assistant professor of music; and William Wilkins, assistant professor of music.

Music: Leland Bartholomew, instructor in music; Stanley Ballinger, assistant professor of music; and Phyllis Schleich, instructor of music; are listening to one of the many recordings in the music department.

College nurses: Keeping the students in good health is the job of Mrs. Francis Cook, instructor in health and college nurse, and Mrs. Inez Baxter, instructor in health and college nurse.

Newly remodeled Rarick hall is the home of the education and psychology departments. In the early days of the college, it served as the home economics and industrial arts center.

rarick hall

Education: Discussing the current trends in education are Dr. Meredith Freeman, assistant professor of education; Dr. Ira Scott, associate professor of education; Dr. Calvin Harbin, professor of education and chairman of division of education and psychology; Dr. Clement Wood, professor of education and head of department; and Dr. Jeanne Kuhn, associate professor of education.

Education: A good joke is always enjoyed by Dr. John Martin, assistant professor of education; Rosella McCarroll, assistant professor of education; Gaynelle Davis, professor of education; Edward Almquist, assistant professor of education; and Dr. Kenneth White, assistant professor of education.

Psychology: Serious problems must be worked out by members of the psychology department, consisting of Dr. Richard Overton, assistant professor of psychology; Stanley Mahoney, assistant professor of psychology; Dr. Joseph Ray, assistant professor of psychology; Bernard Moskowitz, assistant professor of psychology; and Dr. Paul Beckman, assistant professor of psychology.

The reading of a daily newspaper is a broad education in itself. The daily paper affords a background of general information which no one can obtain in any other way.

Few college students need to be told this. It goes without saying, but there may be young men and young women attending Fort Hays State who do not know the Hays Daily News has complete coverage of world-wide, national, state and home news and pictures on every weekday except Saturday, and on Sunday as well. The Sunday Morning News also has local and national features and a comic section. The over-all news coverage provided is that of the Associated Press, the world's largest news-gathering agency.

FORT HAYS STATE ANTHEM

On the plains of Western Kansas
Stands a school we all love well.
'Twas built by the toil of our fathers;
To its glory our voices swell.

Chorus:

Hail to old Fort Hays State!
Let your voices ring!

Praise for the Black and Gold
We will ever sing.

Long may our valor last
Through the future days,

Hon'ring and praising
Dear Fort Hays.

In the years that lie before us
We foresee our land's many needs.

Through the efforts of new generations,
We'll go on to more noble deeds.
